

Emily Jenkins

Author Visit to

Ridge School

Monday, September 28

About the Book

It's never easy when your magic goes wonky.

For Nory, this means that instead of being able to turn into a dragon or a kitten, she turns into both of them at the same time -- a dritten.

For Elliott, the simple act of conjuring fire from his fingertips turns into a fully frozen failure.

For Andres, wonky magic means he's always floating in the air, bouncing off the walls, or sitting on the ceiling.

For Bax, a bad moment of magic will turn him into a ... actually, he'd rather not talk about that.

Nory, Elliott, Andres, and Bax are just four of the students in Dunwiddle Magic School's Upside-Down Magic class. In their classroom, lessons are unconventional, students are unpredictable, and magic has a tendency to turn wonky at the worst possible moments.

We are delighted to announce that award-winning children's author Emily Jenkins will visit Ridge School on Monday, September 28 to discuss her new book, Upside Down Magic. The author will be speaking to students in grades 3, 4 and 5.

An author visit is a wonderful opportunity for young readers to meet the creators of the books they read, and we have arranged for both students and teachers to purchase autographed copies of their books. Please consider extending this learning experience through the purchase of an autographed book.

About the Author

Emily Jenkins was born in New York City, grew up in Cambridge, MA and Seattle, WA, studied English at Vassar, and then came to New York to get her doctorate in

19th-century English literature at Columbia. She is the author of numerous award winning picture books.

Emily lives in Brooklyn, New York.

A percentage of book sales will benefit Ridge School

The order deadline is Thursday, September 10

This event has been arranged through the courtesy of Books, Bytes & Beyond, the independent children's only book seller in Glen Rock. Follow them on Facebook and Twitter.